South African Budget 2017/18 - budget speech summary and tax proposals.

Welcome to SA Tax Guide blog – dedicated to the next generation of taxation trainees and professionals. Here you will be provided with resources on taxation matters. The role of the tax professional is rapidly growing, changing almost as frequently as tax laws. The aim of this blog is to demystify taxation, through the sharing of useful tax guidelines and latest tax news, all for free.

For taxation services that are charged, click here for a full list.

Taxation notes page had been added to cover the syllabus content of most advanced taxation studies, additional articles will also be added to further clarify each syllabus area.

Since tax cases play a large part in the interpretation of tax legislation since many of the terms mentioned in the Income Tax Act are not defined. The SA Tax Guide will provide you with a database of taxation court cases, analysed and summarised.

SA Tax Guide online resources; blog posting, article library, Frequently Asked Questions section are all you will need in your education search. With these tools, you will find:

- Advanced Taxation Notes

- Taxation court cases and their analysis
- Latest tax news
- Real Case Studies
- Answers by Experts to your questions (FAQ)
- Overview of SADC taxation systems

Why Free?

Our main objective is to demystify taxation. Most of the students and SME have not enough money to pay for taxation court cases which are available on subscription basis, as a result the output quality of the qualified students is not up to the mark to face the challenge in the market, thus SA Tax Guide feel it and did it for you.

Our online free resources will play a great role in motivating students to make a decision to major in taxation in their studies.

Note that not all services are free, click here to see a comprehensive list of services that attract a charge.

Seat back, relax and enjoy taxation.
